

District 15 Spotlight Sunnyhill Pavilion under restoration

Councilwoman Butler spearheaded a partnership between Louisville Metro Parks and Jefferson County Public Schools to begin work on Sunnyhill Pavilion in Iroquois Park. The Pavilion, near the play area, has been an eyesore for many years as funding was in question from the federal government. This new partnership has allowed funding to come through and work to begin!"Not only are students from the Iroquois High School construction program getting practical work skills, they have a project to showcase to the community," said Councilwoman Butler. The yearlong restoration calls for each piece of the structure to be evaluated to determine if it can be salvaged or replaced. The students will build/assemble any new pieces. Students are the primary project managers with support from professionals at Metro Parks, Olmsted Parks Conservancy and the construction technology magnet. Sunnyhill represents the rich history of this Olmsted Park while the students represent the bright future
